| (2)  |    | asking for speculation now. Go ahead.              |
| (3)  | Α. | Yeah, there's no evidence of that.                 |
| (4)  | Q. | Well, there's no evidence either way, right; you   |
| (5)  |    | don't know?  |
| (6)  | Α. | No, there is evidence.                             |
| (7)  |    | MR. AICHER: Object to the form.                    |
| (8)  | Α. | No, there is evidence to the contrary.             |
| (9)  | Q. | I'm going to show you Exhibit 55. Do you recognize |
| (10) |    | this photo?  |
| (11) | Α. | I believe that's a photo that I took from up the B |
| (12) |    | quad.  |
| (13) | Q. | That's right.                                      |
| (14) | Α. | During my site inspection.                         |
| (15) | Q. | And who's that standing down there by the          |
| (16) |    | snowmaking station?                                |
| (17) | Α. | That's Mr. Lancaster.                              |
| (18) | Q. | And is it your testimony, sir, that the snowmaking |
| (19) |    | station, as we're looking at it here in this       |
| (20) |    | photograph that you took, is trail side?           |
| (21) | Α. | I'm not sure I ever said it was trail side. I said |
| (22) |    | it was off the groomed surface.                    |
| (23) | Q. | All right. So you would agree that the snowmaking  |
| (24) |    | station involved in Ric's accident wasn't trail    |
| (25) |    | side, right?                                       |

| (5)   | Α.                | It's not trail side. However, it's located on the   |
